This certificate is confirmation that the above named student has successfully completed the indicted online training course. National Safety Compliance did not verify the identity of the student. The named student must have answered all online questions correctly (with review) before this certificate was issued. As is true with all online courses, this course did not include hands-on training or workplace specific content. Employers are responsible for these areas of content. Additionally, employers are responsible for verifying the student's understanding and competence to implement this content in the work environment, for enforcement of the safety content and for determining when retraining is necessary or required by OSHA regulations.
